

Case-Ex: Selfless Service

Splash Opening:

(Bolded text is displayed in the Army Values introduction video)

Selfless Service: Put the welfare of the Nation, the Army and your subordinates before your own.

The Army Value of Selfless Service represents our willingness to endure and sacrifice much despite obstacles and challenges. We serve a greater purpose and sacrifice for each other because of our love for our country, family, fellow Soldiers and for freedom.

Objective: Understand the Army Value of Selfless Service and how to live it as a Soldier.

What does it mean to serve “selflessly?”

- Placing duty before personal desires
- Promoting and helping others
- Volunteering
- Putting your own interests aside
- Committing to others
- Being glad when others succeed

As Soldiers, we are often seen as the standard of Selfless Service—sacrificing our way of life so that others may live in safety and security. Starting with our decision to join the military, we have chosen to be selfless. We must continue this Selfless Service throughout our careers, from sacrifice on the battlefield to serving in our homes.

- What does Selfless Service mean to you personally?
- How is this different from the way that you thought about Selfless Service before you joined the Army?
